Services Portfolio

Professional Services

Business thrives on the ability to anticipate, adopt, implement and manage changes in technology as well as customer expectations. To stay ahead of the competition in this challenging IT environment, it requires effective planning, execution and management of human, capital, infrastructure and processes. However, all these demand a considerable investment of time as well as money, which can drive your focus away from the core business activities. Expert advice from an efficient and trusted IT consultant can help you minimize risks, avoid pitfalls and gain a competitive edge in business. Aimjoroa Tech Tech Solution's comprehensive Professional Services help our clients enhance their productivity and increase ROI without any overheads.

Product Engineering Services

"Develop rich products from vision to launch"

We support customers for transforming their vision to solution from product conceptualization, usability engineering to development, testing and deployment. Since Inception Aimjoroa Tech has embraced product development as a core business function. The key team brings together decades of experience in delivering solution from vision of global companies that wish to outsource their product development. Unlike application development, product development involves a lot of ground work to define the vision, consider sustainability and ensure business success. We plan a road map along with the client, work to develop the product within the target budget and deliver on time. We assure quality, speed and best price tag.

Enterprise Mobility Services

Have an idea? Want to publish it on the iOS App Store, or the Android Play Store, or any other market? Aimjoroa Tech Tech has the expertise to help bring your idea to life. Whether you want a fully native solution, using Objective-C, Java/Dalvik, etc., or you want a cross-platform solution using PhoneGap, RhoMobile, etc., we have the technical expertise to get it done for you.
